

8. CMA will hold as private and confidential any written or verbal information received from or regarding the client unless the client has made such information public or unless a waiver is received from the client. CMA assumes the right to include the client's name in CMA lists of client organizations. The client may request in writing to be excluded from such lists.
9. The client will commit required board, staff and other resources for the project.
10. The client will not solicit the professional volunteer(s) recruited by CMA who is (are) acting as a member of CMA's consulting team, either to serve on the client's board of directors or to provide consulting services to the client agency independent of CMA, during the contract period and for the immediate six (6) months thereafter, except by mutual consent.
11. CMA has based the estimate of fees on certain assumptions that have been conveyed from discussions with the client. If those assumptions are not correct, and CMA would need to perform more work than anticipated, CMA will notify the client to discuss a change order and related fees.
12. This agreement constitutes the terms and conditions of agreement. Any change, modification or alteration of this agreement must be made in writing and signed by both CMA and the client.
